WEATHER INDICATIONS.

U. S. Department of Agriculture,
Weather Bureau.
Toledo, O., May 9, 1892.

The area of high pressure has moved to the east during the past 48 hours and is central over the upper lake regions.

There is a storm of considerable magnitude central over Kansas, having advanced to its present position from Texas. Its present movement is northward. This storm has caused rains over the upper and lower Mississippi and Missouri valleys. It was snowing Sunday and Monday over the Dakotas and far northwest, and the temperature over that section ranges from 32 to 42 degrees. Huron, Dak., reports frost. The weather over the wheat country will grow warmer, but prospects are for rain. Heaviest rainfalls reported during past 24 hours are: Memphis, 2.26 inches; Omaha, 1.60; Fort Smith, 1.10; Kansas City, 0.78; Cairo, 0.58, and Des Moines, 0.50.

The weather over the lake region, New England, middle and southern Atlantic states is generally fair; elsewhere it is generally cloudy or rainy. Signals are displayed at all stations on Lakes Michigan, Superior, Huron and Erie for northeast gales.

The Mississippi river is now at the highest point known, and is still rising south of Memphis. At New Orleans it recedes 16.6 feet, which is 3.6 feet above the danger line.

Forecast for Toledo and vicinity—On Monday, fair, stationary temperature.

On Tuesday, rain, slight changes in temperature, high east to northeast winds.

It's a plan that proves something—but only the makers of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery adopt it. It's a plan to give you what you expect, or take no pay.

If, in any case, their remedy fails to benefit or cure you, they'll return the money.

That proves, for one thing, that it's pretty sure to do all that's claimed for it. And what they claim is, that all diseases or disorders caused by a torpid liver or impure blood are cured by it. For all the many forms of Scrofula, and for the most obstinate Skin and Scalp Diseases, Salt-rheum, Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, and all kindred ailments, it is an unequaled and unfailing remedy.

It proves that the "Discovery" is the best blood-medicine, or it couldn't be sold on such terms; and the cheapest, for you pay only for the good you get.

And it proves, too, that nothing else, offered in its place by the dealer, can be "just as good."

Beware of spurious imitations or dilutions, at lower prices.

A WATERY WASTE

Great Damage Done to the Crops.

Houses and Cattle Washed Away.

The Maumee Gets Its Back Up

And Joins the Turbulent Rivers.

Several Fatalities are Reported and More Must Follow as Soon as the Waters Get Back in the Banks.

Brunswick, Mo., May 9.—The waters of the Missouri and Grand rivers have flooded the lowlands south of this place. All day yesterday the inhabitants were busy rescuing their stock and removing them to higher ground.

At 7 o'clock last night the ferry boat was broken from its cable by driftwood while loaded with people and horses and went floating down the river.

At a late hour it had not been heard from. One woman fell into the river while jumping from the ferry boat into a skiff. She was saved from drowning by Capt. Strutman, who had gone to the rescue of the frightened passengers.

Dozens of homes are destroyed and hundreds of acres of farm land covered by the floods. There is danger of the Missouri current changing to its old channel, which will entirely destroy the bar which was formed about twenty years ago by the channel changing.

At South Bend.

South Bend, Ind., May 9—The high water caused great excitement in this city Sunday. Friday night the water reached the highest mark and was at a standstill for a few hours. Towards morning it suddenly rose several inches and scores of factory buildings were in great danger.

Hundreds of men worked all day moving goods to places of safety while others labored incessantly to save the dam and embankments.

During the early morning hours Sunday a large house went over the dam and tore out a portion of the apron. It was feared it would damage the bridges, but passed under them without straining the piers.

At Bertrand the house struck the bridge and carried away a section of it just as Frank C. Nippold, of this city, was crossing in a buggy. The horse and buggy were lost, but Mr. Nippold managed to swim ashore greatly exhausted. The water has receded somewhat since last night.

Our Own Maumee.

Fort Wayne, Ind., May 9.—Reports of extensive devastation by the waters of the St. Joseph, St. Mary and Maumee rivers continue to come in.

Not less than 500 farms on the lowlands were overflowed and a great deal of timber that was cut for the mills went down the streams.

Louis Isagy, a farmer living on the banks of the Maumee four miles below Fort Wayne, lost all his horses, cows and sheep in the flood, besides several acres of corded wood.

Down stream it was no uncommon sight to see cows floating by with the drift. No human lives were lost, as the rise of the waters was gradual, giving all a chance to escape.

While the river is still high above its banks, the waters are receding, and if the weather remains fair the danger is over. The families who moved out of their houses at Fort Wayne have had enough of living in the low lands, and cannot be induced to move back. Most of the vacated houses, however, are still in the water.

The River Rising at Peoria.

Peoria, Ill., May 9.—Thousands of people to-day visited the inundated districts in this city. The river is still a raging torrent with a roar that can be heard for a long distance. The measurement was taken this morning and it registered 21 feet and 7 inches, which is a rise of seven inches in 24 hours. Since then the water has been so rough that no measurement could be made. Waves are rolling high and the greatest danger is to be feared. It is believed that the river will not rise much more, but strong wind which prevails is dashing water so furiously against the bank that many bridges are liable to be washed out. The railroad companies have large forces at work guarding against this.

The cattle pens of the lower sugar works in which thousands of head are fed daily are a foot under water and unless the water quickly subsides they must be removed.

The dam at Henry, 40 miles above here, threatens to go out, and should it do so, the devastation along the river will be appalling. In the Lamarsh district the destruction continues. Many houses have been floated off or dashed to pieces by the driftwood, and by the time the water goes out nothing will be left except debris. The residents have lost everything they had and are in destitute condition. Several warehouses here are surrounded by water and threaten every minute to be carried away.

Flood Reports.

Kansas City, Mo., May 9.—The past twenty-four hours have furnished the climax for all the rainy weather of this spring. A heavy downpour of water has been falling all day and since midnight last night, so that the already soaked ground has been giving off the water into the swollen creeks and streams. The result is that accounts of floods have been coming in from all over Western Missouri and Eastern Kansas telling of flooded rivers, overflowed creeks and streams.

In some localities the towns have been flooded and some damage is reported to dwellings by having their foundations washed out. The flood came so suddenly in other districts that the farmers had no time to prepare for it, and much of their stock has been drowned and washed away. Growing crops have been badly damaged and thousands of fields will have to be replanted.

In Saline county, Missouri, all the streams are reported out of their banks and the whole county has been turned into a lake. Some houses have been washed away and much stock has been lost.

Along the Platte river and the One Hundred and Two river, the whole country has been inundated and houses and barns have been destroyed. In Livingston, Grundy, and Mercer counties the Grand river and its forks have flooded the whole country and the district from Chillicothe to the Iowa line is one sea of water. All the crops have been washed out for miles throughout the Grand river valley and much stock has been lost.

All the railroads in the district have been more or less damaged and traffic is greatly delayed and in some cases has been abandoned altogether. The Wabash bridge here has been strained out of line so that no trains can pass over.

In Oklahoma Territory a steady pouring rain has been falling for twenty-four hours and half the streams in the territory are out of their banks. Many bridges have been washed away. Nearly all of the overland mails have been abandoned. The Santa Fe has suffered several washouts and trains are badly delayed. A small cyclone accompanied the rain north of Guthrie and did considerable damage. The houses of John Davis, Henry Smith, and John Crockett were carried some distance by the cyclone and badly damaged. Many barns and other buildings were destroyed. There was no loss of life so far as is known.

All the trains from every direction, with the exception of the Rock Island and Union Pacific from the west, are late in arriving at this city. All are delayed by unsafe bridges, landslides or washouts.

The rain continues to-night with unabated steadiness. The Missouri river, which is very high for this season of the year is rising rapidly, and there is much apprehension lest the steady pour of water into it from its tributaries will cause it to go on the rampage and increase the already heavy damages by floods.

IT SEEMS TO BOTHER HIM

Watterson Again Discussing Cleveland.

He Claims the Latter at the Proper Time Will Write a Letter Declining to Run.

Louisville, Ky., May 9.—Henry Watterson, who is now in the east, says in his paper this morning:

"Cleveland is now seriously considering whether the party can afford to place him in nomination and whether, in case it does so, he can afford to make the race. We can say that nothing is more likely than Mr. Cleveland will have a letter of renunciation at Chicago, such as in 1880 Mr. Tilden had at Cincinnati, and that if he has it will be upon the exact line of thought pursued by Mr. Watterson, that the ex-president cannot command the vote of New York and that therefore he cannot be elected.

A DOUBLE TRAGEDY.

A Negro Kills His Wife and Then Himself.

The Woman Tried to Defend Herself With a Knife and He Shot Her.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 9.—Abel Smith, a colored man 23 years old, quarreled with his wife Miranda, at their home on Rockaway avenue, Canarsie, last evening.

Abel made a violent attack on his wife and she grabbed two knives, and with one in each hand, vigorously defended herself. The wife was getting the best of the fracas, when Smith seized a gun and shot her through the heart.

Terror stricken at his deed, the man rushed from the house and threw himself in front of a train on the Canarsie road, which was passing at the moment. He was mangled in a frightful manner and died instantly.

Neighbors found the body of the woman some hours later, lying in a pool of blood where she had fallen on the floor. She still held tightly in her hands the knives she sought to defend her life with.

METHODIST CONFERENCE

A Grand Mass Meeting in Omaha.

Twenty-five Thousand People Present.

Subscriptions Taken for the University to be Established in the National Capital.

Omaha, Neb., May 9.—The American University and "Christian Education" were the prevailing themes at the mass meeting at Exposition hall Sunday afternoon. Notwithstanding the forbidding weather there was an attendance of over 25,000 people present, and they sat out the entire program that lasted two and three-quarter hours.

All the addresses were with reference to the proposed great university at Washington, which will be opened only to college graduates, and the doors of which are not to be thrown open until an endowment fund of $5,000,000 has been secured. The nature of the scheme was set forth by Bishop Hurst, who presided.

The musical part of the program was in charge of Chaplain McCabe and Dr. M. S. Hard. The opening prayer was made by Rev. Dr. D. W. Hays.

Rev. Dr. Moulton, the English delegate, was called for by the audience, and responded briefly, expressing his approval of the magnificent scheme and faith in its consummation.

It was announced that several subscriptions had already been promised, Mrs. McCabe taking the first share of $1,000. Another like sum across the hall was announced as only waiting for some one to go after it.

A resolution was adopted asking the bishops to designate October 16 as Columbian day, when subscriptions will be taken for the American University.

The question will come before the general conference for definite action some time during the present month.

The woman's question was sprung this morning on the conference in the form of a resolution of J. B. Maxwell, of Nebraska, which asks that they be admitted to membership in the general missionary committee.

Without debate it was referred.

W. F. Whitlock, of Ohio, presented a petition asking that a daily religious paper be established and run under the jurisdiction of the bishops and general conference.

W. F. Stevens, of Southwest Indiana, presented a petition asking for equal lay representation. It was referred to a special committee.

N. J. Plumb, of Foochow, presented a resolution asking that in countries which permit a plurality of wives the marriage tie need not be dissolved in order to enter the church; also that a bishop be required to reside in China. Both referred.

Owing to the habit of delegates leaving for home before the final adjournment it was resolved that unless the members receiving permission their traveling expenses will not be paid.

DAY OF DEATH FIXED

Frederick Deeming Must Die On May 23.

The Prisoner Now in Irons in His Cell

To prevent Him from Doing Injury to Himself—The Condemned Man Continues His False Statements.

The execution of Frederick B. Deeming, the convicted murderer, was to-day set down for May 23. Deeming is kept in irons to keep him from injuring himself and others, for he is at times very savage, while in his best mood he is forbidding and morose. He is reported as saying that his mother predicted that he would be hanged before he reached the age of 40.

With regard to his family history, he states that his father's mind was unhinged; that he was of a very violent temperament, and that he died in a lunatic asylum at Birkenhead. His mother he describes as good and kind, but she also was confined in a lunatic asylum until shortly before the prisoner's birth.

His brother Sam, he also asserts, was likewise confined in a lunatic asylum, but this fact was only known to his other brother, Albert. When in England, last year, the prisoner declares he vainly endeavored to ascertain the whereabouts of his brother Sam. He has a sister who is employed as a housemaid at New Brighton, near Liverpool, and another who "is not right in her head."

Deeming has also given information as to some serious family trouble which he says, occurred between 1880 and 1881. These stories, however, are emphatically denied by persons who know the Deeming family, and who say that while never distinguished by special energy of character, its members, except Deeming, were always respectable and clear-headed.

Nobody in Melbourne puts any faith whatever in the murderer's story about himself and others, although it is believed that the manuscript which he is preparing may give a substantially correct account of the tragedies at Rain Hill and Windsor.

CRUSHED IN A MINE.

A Frightful Accident Reported From Yorkshire.

London, May 9.—A frightful accident occurred to-day at the Manvers main colliery in Yorkshire.

A number of miners were at work loosening coal in a remote section of the pit.

Suddenly a quantity of coal about one hundred tons in weight fell upon them from the roof of the shaft, crushing the life out of several of them and badly injuring others.

Three are known to have been killed and two more were dragged alive from under the coal. The cause of the accident was a lack of proper precautions in furnishing supports as the work progressed.

COMBINE IN WALL PAPER.

If You Have Got Your House Papered You're Lucky.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 9.—According to a well founded rumor, a gigantic wall paper trust has been formed. Negotiations, it is said, have been going on for some time between the large manufacturers throughout the country and the details have now been arranged.

A meeting is said to have been held at a very recent date, when the formation of the trust was completed. The trust is to be the largest in the country. It has a capital of $20,000,000 according to the story told here and in a short time will be in working order.

George K. Birge, of the firm of M. H. Birge & Sons, when questioned about the scheme admitted that the combination had been formed, but declined to give any particulars.

AGAINST THE READING.

Gov. Abbett Decides to Take Action in the Matter.

Trenton, N. J., May 9.—Attorney-General Stockton is preparing to take legal action against the New Jersey railroads interested in the Reading deal.

He is doing so under the advice of Governor Abbett, who intends to have the courts declare the leases invalid on the ground that it is an invasion of the law of 1885, which prohibits the lease of any state corporation to foreign or non-resident owners.

The attorney-general is at work on an injunction which will be filed in the court of chancery in a few days. The law of New Jersey prohibits the leasing of its corporations to foreign corporations and the Central, to get into the deal which, it was said, was really planned several years ago, had itself leased to the Port Reading, a company controlled by the magnates of the Reading and Lackawanna, and yet so insufficient that it has never made any returns for taxation to the state board of assessors, as by law all railroad corporations are bound to do.

Now Governor Abbett has instructed Attorney-General Stockton to file a bill in the court of chancery setting up the lease of the Central to the Port Reading and charging that the lease is an invasion and fraud on the law forbidding leasing to foreign corporations or non-resident owners and praying for an order decreeing the lease to be invalid and directing its cancellation.

MISS CALDWELL ILL,

The Richest Unmarried Woman in the Country.

New York, May 9.—Miss Mary Gwendolin Caldwell, who is reputed to be the wealthiest unmarried woman in America, is very ill in this city with typhoid fever. It is thought the disease was caused by drinking the water of Florida, as Miss Caldwell has just returned from a winter residence in that state.

Miss Caldwell's fortune is estimated to be about $10,000,000. She is a devout Catholic, has given liberally to Catholic charities and endowed the Catholic university in Washington to the extent of $500,000. She has been decorated by the pope with the order of the Golden Rose. Miss Caldwell was engaged at one time to Prince Murat, of France, but the engagement was broken off.

AFTER STOLEN TICKETS.

A Sensation Among the Scalpers.

Jack Sneed's Office in Columbus Searched for Missing Big Four Mileage Books.

Columbus, O., May 9.—Mysterious movements by prominent officials of the Big Four railway indicate that a sensation is brewing in the passenger department of that company.

Officers on Saturday went to the office of Justice of the Peace Gallagher and caused a writ of replevin to be issued against Jack Sneed, the ex-base ball player, who carries on a scalper's office in the Chittendon hotel. The writ was worded very indefinitely, simply calling for "certain tickets and mileage books in possession of Sneed."

Constable Scurry, accompanied by Messrs. Martin and Ramsey, immediately served the writ on Sneed at the latter's place of business. Sneed demurred, claiming the writ was so indefinite that his entire stock might be confiscated on the strength of it.

In the meantime he dispatched Mr. William Burdell, the well-known banker, who happened to be talking to Sneed at the time, for an attorney. Mr. Burdell soon returned with Ex-Attorney General Watson. Constable Scurry had proceeded to seize Sneed's stock before Gen. Watson arrived on the scene, and was hastily turning the tickets and milege books over to Messrs. Martin and Ramsey. Gen. Watson, upon being informed of the situation, protested against such summary action on the part of the constable.

During the controversy that ensued Messrs. Martin and Ramsey closely inspected Sneed's entire stock. After completing the examination of all tickets and mileage books Mr. Martin remarked:

"Well, Mr. Sneed, we will make you no further trouble. You haven't got what we are looking for. Some of our tickets are missing, and we desired to see whether or not you had them."

The two Big Four officials and their constable then hastily left the hotel. A few minutes afterward Messrs. Martin and Ramsey boarded a Cincinnati train at the Union depot and left the city. Their fruitless search in Sneed's office soon became rumored about in railroad circles, and created a decided sensation. Other scalpers expected a similar visit from Constable Scurry, but no further action was taken.

Jack Sneed, proprietor of the suspected office, disclaims all knowledge as to what prompted the action of the Big Four officials. He says that he has not purchased any Big Four tickets within the last several weeks, and that he can prove all his transactions were legitimate. It is evident that the Big Four has lost or been robbed of tickets which were thought to have been sold to Sneed.

WAS CAUSED BY POVERTY

Hundred of English People Disfranchised.

They Are Suffering for Food, and When They Take Public Aid They Are Called Paupers.

London, May 9.—It is proposed to parliament to prevent the disfranchisement of the suffering workingmen in the north and midland counties.

The guardians of the Middlesborough union have to deal with a large increase in pauperism, arising from the stoppage of nearly the whole of the iron and steel works in the union.

The number in receipt of relief is nearly nine per cent. of the population. Four labor yards have been opened, in which nearly 2,000 able-bodied married men are employed on test labor; but the board refused to relieve able-bodied single men except in the workhouse.

Mr. Hanks called attention to the fact that several hundred of parliamentary and municipal electors would be disfranchised through having been forced to accept temporary relief from the guardians and urged that the board should invite the four neighboring unions where exceptional distress exists from the same cause, to join in a petition to the leaders of the house of commons and the opposition to pass a short act to prevent the wholesale disfranchisement of these electors, who have been temporarily pauperized through circumstances beyond their control.

DROWNED WHILE BOATING.

A Sad Accident to a Picnic Party.

Cincinnati, May 9—Last evening a skiff containing Alice Laurul, Kate Clark, Lizzie Tenhuendfeld and John Bolen started from the boat house at Woodsdale island for a row down the Big Miami river.

They passed the danger signal without noticing it and got into the current, which carried the party over the dam.

Misses Laurul and Clark were drowned, while Miss Tenhuendfeld and Bolen narrowly escaped the same fate. A picnic given by the United States express managers was being held on the island when the accident happened.

KILLED IN A MINE.

Berlin, May 9.—Five men lost their lives by the breaking of a cage chain at the Trinkinlein colliery. The cage was about the middle of the shaft and filled with miners, when the chain broke.

GLASS MAKERS ACT.

An Organization Opposed to a Sunday Fair.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 9.—The window glass workers' council of L. A. 300, K. of L., at its session Saturday instructed its president and secretary to petition the world's fair commission in favor of closing the exposition on Sunday and prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors on the grounds.

This is the first labor organization in the United States to take action on the Sunday question and the world's fair, and coming from 6,000 glass workers all over the United States, it is regarded as very important.

SUPPOSED TO BE CAREY.

A Dead Body Found Floating in the Ohio.

Wheeling, W. Va., May 9.—A body, supposed to be that of D. M. Carey, of the firm of Paige, Carey & Co., whose connection with the Painesville bank scandal has figured in the press dispatches, was found in the Ohio river, a few miles below Wheeling yesterday. The body was badly decomposed, but the clothing on it answers the description of the well-known contractor. Mr. Carey was drowned in this city in February.

RIOT AMONG THE MINERS

They Attack a Non-Union Workman

And Then Batter Down His Home.

The House of a Mine Boss Fired—Great Indignation at the Work of the Mob.

London, May 9.—The employment of a non-unionist named Stockdale caused a riot on Saturday at the Castledon colliery, near Hartlepool. Stockdale was attacked by the union men as he was leaving his work, but the police interfered. The rioters hurled a shower of stones at them. A number were badly injured. Stockdale ran to his home.

The mob then rushed to the colliery and smashed the engine house to pieces. Then they made a descent upon the piles of coals and every man lugged off as much as he could carry. Again and again they returned, and it is said that they managed to steal a hundred tons of coal.

Finally some one in the crowd suggested that they attack Stockdale's house, and in a short time it was totally wrecked. The occupants had been warned and made their escape.

Another house in which resided an official of the mine was set on fire. Yesterday the mob gathered again, and threatened to wreck the upper works of the colliery. The mine officials parleyed with the mob and finally, by promising to discharge Stockdale, induced the miners to suspend hostilities.

Great indignation is expressed at the action of the mob, and there is no doubt that the ringleader will be severely punished.

BEATING ABOUT THE BUSH

Civil Service Investigation in Washington.

Attorney-General Miller on the Stand.

Wanamaker's Testimony Shows That the Law Machine in Washington Has No Head.

Washington, May 9.—Attorney-General Miller to-day gave testimony before the house committee on the reform in the civil service, in pursuance of the committee's inquiry into the alleged violations of the civil service law by federal officials in Baltimore.

Chairman Andrew told the attorney-general that the committee proposed to ask him concerning Biddleman and Wm. H. Sutzler of the United States marshal's office in Baltimore, whose removal had been commanded by the civil service commission for soliciting contributions for political purposes.

The attorney-general said he had no knowledge that the removal of these men had been requested or that proceedings against them had been recommended. The only report of Commissioner Roosevelt that had been brought to his apartment had been brought within the past few days since his return from the south.

He had learned from Solicitor General Aldrich that during his absence in the south Mr. Roosevelt had called at the department of justice, but that he did not say to Mr. Aldrich anything that would implicate the two men named.

The department, said the attorney-general, kept no list of employes of marshals' offices.

He had no knowledge whatever that the men named had been indicted. No request had been made to him to look into the matter, but if there had been he would have investigated it, and if he had found that the accused employes were guilty of direct violation of the civil service law, he would have proceeded against them.

He thought the most direct way to get at the facts was to summon the United States marshal at Baltimore. The men charged had been appointed by the marshal. The marshal, said the attorney-general, had told him nothing that would implicate any of his deputies.

Mr. Coombs, a member of the committee, suggested that the attorney-general call on the district attorney at Baltimore for a report on the case, but the attorney-general said he thought it would be better to have the district attorney appear before the committee.

In answer to Mr. Raines, the attorney-general said the question had never been brought to his attention for an opinion whether election primaries, in which the accused employes had been interested, came within the meaning of the civil service law. Nothing of the sort, he said, had been presented before him.

Mr. Boatner cited for the benefit of the attorney general the testimony of Postmaster General Wanamaker before the committee in effect that, in consideration of the charges against employes of the Baltimore postoffice of violating the civil service law in connection with these Baltimore primaries, the postmaster general had referred to the assistant attorney general for the postoffice department for decision of the question as to whether the primaries in questin came within the meaning of the law and the assistant attorney general had rendered a decision in the negative.

Mr. Boatner asked the attorney general if he had seen the decision.

Mr. Miller replied that he had not seen it—he had no recollection of it. He did not think it proper for himself to give an opinion on the subject, because he had come before the committee to answer questions, not to render opinions. This concluded the examination for to-day.

CARNEY INJURED.

London, May 9.—The pugilist Jem Carney has had his collar bone broken by a fall from a horse.

THEY STRUCK A REEF

Limestone in the Bottom of the Calumet.

Gossip Gathered Around the Lakes.

All the News of the Inland Seas Gathered by Bee Reporters—Vessel Passages.

Chicago, May 9.—(Special Marine Service)—After the general government has expended several hundred thousand dollars in dredging Calumet river, in pursuance of the plan to give a deep channel to Hammond, Indiana, in one direction, and to Pullman in the other, a surprising obstacle has appeared, which will retard if not ultimately defeat the project.

At One Hundred and Eleventh street, McGillis & Co., contractors, have encountered a solid limestone reef ten feet below the surface. The reef extends to One Hundred and Thirteenth street.

To give the required channel of 200 feet in width and 16 feet in depth will require an extraordinary large appropriation by congress, far in excess of the original estimate by the United States engineer.

Whether it extends beyond One Hundred and Thirteenth street has as yet not been determined, as that is as far as the examination has gone.

The whole Calumet basin has hitherto been supposed to be of vegetable or mud bottom, although a reef of rock was known to exist on the north shore of Calumet lake between Cummings and Pullman. It is surprising that no borings were made on the line of the proposed channel before it was adopted.

Several attempts have recently been made at blasting the reef, but they have proved futile. The charges seem to have made very little impression upon the solid limestone, and if the work is to be continued a big item must be added to the present river and harbor bill.

This discovery has been quite a boom for the plan of digging a channel direct from Lake Michigan to Wolf Lake at Sheffield, and then extending the channel through Hyde Park to the Calumet, and then extending it to the forks to Hegewish. It is said that this route will avoid the reef.

The wind continued northeast yesterday, and has developed into a gale. The rise of water at this end of the lake checked the out-current out of the river, but in the South branch it continued, especially at Van Buren street pass, though not nearly so bad as on Saturday. The stage of water at Van Buren street was three feet lower than on Saturday evening. Among larger craft towed down the South branch were the steamers Rhoda Emily, Juniata, Omaha, Conemaugh, Whitaker, Nahant and Lehigh. Although much difficulty was encountered at Van Buren street, and lumber steamers had to have tugs in getting through, there were no serious mishaps.

Up to last night there were 80 inbound vessels with lumber lying at the mouth of the harbor and between the lower bridges waiting to be towed up the South branch. There was a great demand for tugs, and the various lines are doing the best in their power. They refuse to take many schooners, however small, unless two tugs went to them. Vesselmen who risked the pass with one tug took their own chances. There was much anxiety on the part of vessel captains who had lain at anchor in the basin for several days to get to their docks. They insisted that the danger was all over, but soon found out differently when they approached State street bridge.

The big steamer John B. Lyon, grain-loaded, was held fast by the current all night against Rush street bridge. As she was loaded so as to touch bottom, her broadside was virtually damming the current, and it was only with the utmost difficulty that the big boat was swung around yesterday morning. The schooner Naiad lost her cathead and inflicted some damage on State street bridge. Vessel operators were kept on duty most of yesterday in order to handle the big fleet without jams. This was accomplished successfully, and the embargo on navigation, caused by the big flood, virtually came to an end.

The steamer H. B. Pereue, which so narrowly escaped foundering outside, being rescued by the steamer Minnesota, was in port here yesterday. The captain says the water in her hold had put the fire out in the furnaces; that there was a heavy sea on and she was wallowing and rolling in a fearful way. When the Minnesota came alongside the crew was tearing away the woodwork below to make a fire with which to keep the siphon going.

There were divine services at the Lumber Exchange wharf yesterday, listened to by a large crowd of sailors, tugmen and others.

Manager J. L. Higgie, of the V. O. T. company, is satisfied that the Milwaukee steam steering gear is a good thing, and has ordered sets for the tugs Van Schaack, Protection and Calumet.

The steambarge Penaukee hit every bridge protection and came within six inches of sinking a canal boat in trying to force her way against the current in the South branch yesterday, even after she had secured a tug. Her bow looked as if it had been through the war, from colliding with bridge abutments. The boat was quite powerless against the heavy current, and first went one way and then the other.

VIGOROUS RELIGION.

Interesting Event Celebrated in the Catholic Church.

Booming of Cannon and Fireworks in the Evening Close the Exercises.

DePere, Wis., May 9.—A ceremony unique and unrivaled in the history of the Roman Catholic church in America took place at St. Joseph's church yesterday amid the ringing of bells and booming of cannon.

It was the coronation of St. Joseph, performed by Bishop Massmer and authorized by the pope.

Many priests and hundreds of people were present from adjoining cities. Pontifical high mass was celebrated and eulogies of St. Joseph were delivered in French and English. A statue of St. Joseph bearing the infant Savior in his arms stood above the altar. Crowns of pure gold were placed on their heads, the crown of the Savior being studded with diamonds and precious stones.

The celebration was concluded in the evening with a display of fireworks.

The Rev. I. F. Durin, the pastor of St. Joseph's church, secured for DePere an event of such solemnity and importance, for which purpose he made a trip to Rome.

OIL FOR FUEL.

Another Pipe Line to Chicago Being Talked of.

Portland, Ind., May 9.—It is reported here that a wealthy syndicate, composed of New York, Chicago and Indianapolis capitalists, will secure oil territory in this county and build pipe lines to carry oil to Indianapolis and Chicago, the oil to be used by mills in those cities as fuel.

The Chicago line will pass through Logansport and supply that city. The project is encouraged by the manufacturers, as the fuel would cost only half what coal does.

FUN AT THE BALL PARK

Toledo Wins One and Loses One to Omaha.

Opening of the Western League in This City.

Games in Other Places—General Sporting News of Interest to the Base Ball Enthusiast.

The Western League base ball season opened in Toledo to about 2,000 people Saturday, which was a good showing considering the weather. The Sunday game was attended by fully 5,000 people. Whatever may be said in other cities it is evident that the interest is not dying out here. With good ball playing it will be well maintained. Saturday's game was won by Toledo because the Nicholson boys bunched their hits. Sunday's game was won by Omaha on exactly the same line. It's horse and horse, so to speak, and the boys will shake it off on Tuesday, when Dad Clarke says he will put Omaha in a hole again. The scores of the two games follow:

If you want to read a correct score of the base ball games read the Bee. The score published by the other papers in this city are the worst kind of a burlesque.

In the Western League games Saturday Kansas City defeated Columbus 2 to 1 in 13 innings; Milwaukee shut out Minneapolis 8 to 0, and St. Paul and Indianapolis were rained on.

In the League, Boston won from Cincinnati 3 to 2; Chicago 8, New York 0; Pittsburg 1, Washington 5; Pittsburg 1, Washington 2; Cleveland 3, Baltimore 4; Louisville 3, Philadelphia 6.

—::—::—

In the Western League yesterday Minneapolis defeated Milwaukee 10 to 9, in a closely contested game; Indianapolis went over to Fort Wayne and won a game from St. Paul by a score of 3 to 0, while Columbus defeated the Cowboys 6 to 2.

In the League the results were as follows:

Baltimore 5, Cincinnati 4.
Louisville 8, Washington 3.
St. Louis 2, Cleveland 10.

Notes.

The Cowboys will be the next visitors to Toledo.

The Hirssig Gun club attended the game Sunday in a body.

Mayor Emmick opened the season Saturday in a very neat speech.

Darling and Hurley's double in the Saturday game was well worthy of mention.

Give the pitchers in the Western League credit. Nobody is doing any heavy hitting.

H. Baumbach and his voice put in an appearance and Herman received an ovation.

Nichol was hit behind the ear by a pitched ball Saturday but he got even by hitting the ball behind the ear for a home run Sunday.

Armour's error in Saturday's game was excusable. The slippery ground made it hard for him to hold the ball after he had reached it.

The Emmetts defeated the Rogers by a score of 17 to 16 yesterday. Batteries—Vondette, Walters and Garvin; Reagan, Snow and Leary.

Dewald was sick just before Sunday's game and was not able to do justice to himself. He will rank with the best of them when the season closes.

"Dad" Clarke took compassion on Scheibeck and helped to put up his average. "Dad" knew it would tickle "Schel" and wouldn't hurt him.

It was always Toledo's bad luck to lose before a big crowd, but no fault can be found with yesterday's game. The fates were against the boys.

A "decayed finish" in a "heat" in base ball is something truly refreshing, yet such is the rot furnished to base ball readers by certain Toledo papers.

"Kid" Vickery is good, when it is known that he was pitching ball when the people who are now calling him "Kid" were peeping through knot holes in the fence.

So many of the Toledo base ball writers are trying to follow the "style" of Ed Rife, of the Ohio State Journal, that Dr. Tobey had better build two or three more cottages.

"Dad" Clarke had a special reason for wanting to beat Dave Rowe and his Omahogs and it broke out when, in Saturday's game Dave struck out, and "Dad" told him to "take a walk." It had a wonderful significance to people who have kept abreast of Western League base ball.

THE POLICE BOARD

Has a Special Meeting and Rearranges Matters.

Chief O'Dwyer Made Lieutenant, John Manly Reinstated, Ben Raitz is Chief, and Happiness Reigns Supreme at Cop Headquarters.

The board of police commissioners met Saturday night in special session, with all members present.

When the board was called to order Mr. Stager made a motion to the effect that the action taken at the last meeting, abolishing the office of chief of police and the election of a chief afterwards be expunged from the minutes of that meeting, which Mr. Waring seconded.

Mr. Waring then submitted the following petition, which explains itself:

"Recognizing the faithful, efficient and invaluable service of Mr. John Manley as detective, the undersigned citizens of Toledo, irrespective of party, most earnestly urge that he be retained in his present position."

Mr. Waring stated that the above was the strongest appeal of the kind that had ever been submitted to the board, and he didn't see how it could be ignored. He moved that the request of the petition be granted, and that Mr. Manley be retained.

Mr. Stager seconded, and the motion was carried unanimously.

Mr. Stager moved, seconded by Mr. Potter, that the offices of captain of police, lieutenant of police and the various sergeants be declared vacant.

The motion was approved by a full yea vote.

Mr. Waring then moved that the board proceed to elect a captain of police. Benjamin Raitz was chosen by a vote of four to one, Mr. Stager voting for Chief O'Dwyer.

Mr. Potter moved that the board proceed to elect a lieutenant of police, which was seconded by Mr. Waring.

Edward O'Dwyer was elected unanimously.

Mr. Stager moved to elect sergeants, and they were elected in the following order: First, Charles Robinson; second, W. P. Scott; third, J. M. Sullivan; fourth, Louis Trotter; fifth, P. J. Conway; sixth, Henry Blake; seventh, Thos. Marker.

Mr. Waring moved that the action taken by the board at the last meeting, electing Delbert Hall as detective and W. J. Spore as first detective, be expunged from the minutes. Carried.

John Manley was then reinstated as chief of the detectives, and Spore was elected to the regular detective force, to fill the vacancy made by the retiring of Brown. Delbert Hall was elected as a patrolman to be detailed as special detective.

AWFUL TORTURE.

Legs and Arms of the Victims Broken.

Horrible Treatment of the Captured Rebels by the Government of China.

San Francisco, May 9.—Shanghai newspapers contain accounts of horrible tortures inflicted upon the Chinese accomplices of Mason in his foolish rebellion against the government. The representatives of all the foreign governments have protested against these atrocities.

The victims were only hired by Mason and did not realize their crime or punishment.

The legs and arms of three of them were broken with bamboo sticks. Paper was burned in their faces until the skin fell off to make them confess.

They were hung up by the thumbs and whipped and allowed to hang until unconscious. Other cruel punishments were visited on them and death resulted in many cases.

A postal service has recently been arranged by the imperial government in German east Africa for the conveyance of mail matter on the arrival of the European steamers. Starting from Bagamoyo the the carriers and their leaders from the station and the English and French missions are delivered, and then continue their march via Tabora and first call at Mywapwa, where the letters Bukoba, a station on the western shore of the great lake. Arrived here they immediately set out on the return journey and reach the coast within one hundred days of their departure, marching 11 hours per day. It is calculated that a letter will reach the farthest German station on the Victoria Nyanza in 71 days from Berlin. The carriers are armed with rifles, nd are distinguished by brass plates bearing the words "Imperial Government Post" hung round their necks. The mails are sewn up in water-proof canvas, each parcel not exceeding 35 pounds in weight.

Mark Kenniston, of Phillips, Me., has a bull moose which he has raised from a calf, which is so tame that he turns it out every warm day to browse in the neighboring fields. He catches the big bull as easily as he would a pet lamb, and is breaking him to harness. He hitched the moose to a wagon last summer, and was carried ten miles at railroad speed before he could stop the animal.

THE ASTORS HAVE ARRIVED

J. Coleman Drayton Meets His Wife.

Mr. Roosevelt Arranges the Meeting and It Took Place on Board the Steamer.

New York, May 9.—The World this morning says when the steamship Le Bourgogne reached her dock yesterday morning, J. Coleman Drayton was among the first to go on board. He stood for a moment near Mrs. Astor's cabin door, apparently undecided as to what he should do, and then returned on deck. J. Roosevelt, Mrs. Astor's son-in-law, came on board a few moments later and entered Mrs. Astor's cabin, where he remained until the party was ready to leave the ship. Subsequent events proved that he had prepared Mrs. Drayton for a meeting with her husband.

After nearly all the passengers had departed, Mrs. Astor and Mrs. Drayton, both in deep mourning and heavily veiled, came on deck and walked toward the gang plank. Mrs. Astor was leaning on the arm of Mr. Roosevelt. John Jacob Astor was escorting Mrs. Drayton. Just as the gang plank was reached, Mr. Astor stepped aside and Mr. Drayton, without speaking one word or saluting the party in any way, stepped forward and took his place. Mrs. Drayton neither looked at nor spoke to her husband, but gently laid her hand upon his arm and with him followed her mother to the carriage which Mr. and Mrs. Drayton and Mrs. Astor and her son entered. The party was rapidly driven away.

JUSTICE DEMANDS IT.

Another International Question Arises.

An Appeal Dismissed Because the Convicted Man Had No Money to Pay the Cost.

New York, May 9.—Lawyer Charles J. Peshall has written to the British minister at Washington calling attention to the fact that Edward Hallinger, a British subject, was convicted of murder without a jury trial and that the United States Supreme court has dismissed the appeal on account of his inability to pay the costs.

Peshall said last night: "I have now got this case where I wanted it. Mr. Blaine assured the Italian government that the United States guarantees a trial by jury to subjects of governments with which we have treaty relations when the subjects are charged with capital offenses. "The British minister will communicate with Secretary Blaine and Governor Abbett will be called upon to give the names of the jurors who found Hallinger guilty. It will be demonstrated that a British subject must not be tried for murder without a jury and his appeal dismissed because he has no means."

WITH AN OLD SCYTHE

Farmer Chapman Killed the Evil Spirits.

An Aged Man and Wife Go Crazy on the Subject of Spritualism.

Hamilton, O., May 9.—At Liberty, Ind., a few miles from here, Joseph Chapman and wife, aged 55 and 45, were arrested at their residence and found to be raving maniacs.

About three weeks ago what is known as the "Oige," pronounced "weige," spiritualistic craze struck Liberty. It consisted of a board formed in a semi-circle, with numbers on, and was said by the spiritualists who introduced it to possess the power, by aid of a mechanical arrangement, of calling up departed spirits.

For 14 days and nights past Mr. and Mrs. Chapman have been calling up spirits by means of the board and their infatuation resulted in making both insane.

At 10 o'clock this morning a great noise was heard in the house, and officers found Mrs. Chapman in an up-stairs room naked, with the board in her hand. Her husband, also wildly insane, was in the cellar with an old scythe blade in his hands.

His wife would count 1, 2, 3, 4 on the board, and her infatuated husband in the cellar, who could hear her, would slash about with the scythe under the delusion that he was killing evil spirits. When arrested the husband said he had worked with the "Oige," and had received a communication from Horace Greeley, ordering him to kill his eldest son after he had killed the spirits. The officers arrived just in time to prevent this cruel murder.

Suffering Children

Our girl was a beautiful baby, fair and plump and healthy. But when she was two years old, sores broke out behind her ears and spread rapidly over her head and forehead down to her eyes, and into her neck. We consulted one of the best physicians in Brooklyn, but nothing did her any good. The doctors said it was caused by a scrofula humor in the blood. Her head became with this terrible humor. Being urged to try Hood's Sarsaparilla we did so. We soon noticed that she had more life and appetite. The medicine seemed to drive out more of the humor for a short time, but it soon began to subside, the itching and burning ceased, and in a few months her head became entirely clear of the sore. She is now perfectly well, has no evidence of the humor, and her skin is clear and healthy. MONDAY

MAY 9th
1892

On May 9th, 1671, Thomas Blood, an ex-colonel in Cromwell's army, attempted to steal the crown of England from the Tower of London.

He was aided by two accomplices and he came within an ace of succeeding in the perpetration of the most famous theft in modern history. Accidental discovery in the nick of time resulted in the colonel's capture after a sharp encounter.

FOUND DEAD.

A Woman Killed While on a Drunk.

New London, Conn., May 9.—Ellen Smith Berham, a dissolute woman about 50 years old, was found yesterday at Wakefield, four miles from here, near a stone wall, with the side of her head crushed in.

She had evidently been struck with a large stone. Her husband was arrested on suspicion of having murdered her. He protested his innocence and said the crime was committed by a neighbor, named Mrs. James Rice. All the parties had been on a debauch together.

The point at which gas and electric companies can work in unison has been discovered. A multipolar slow-speed dynamo has been set up directly coupled to a gas engine, and it is found that in this manner electric light can be generated at a less cost per candle power than gaslight could be produced by burning the gas direct.

GOES TO THE WORKS.

A Polander Punished for Pounding His Wife.

Joseph Tolfiski, a Polander, residing at 1531 Vance street, went home early yesterday morning and attacked his wife, who was in bed, with a heavy chisel. He beat her on the head, inflicting numerous severe injuries. The defenseless woman covered her head with her hands and the brute pounded them almost to a jelly. He was arrested and tried in police court this morning. He gave no excuse for his brutal actions more than saying he did it because his wife was lazy. The woman says he has beaten her on former occasions for nothing at all. It was a most brutal and uncalled for assault and the court gave him all it could, $50 and 30 days.

HERE, MR. KOHN,

President Hubbard Expects Things To Be Down in Black and White.

There are prospects of lively times at the meeting of the board of education this evening. At the last meeting, it will be remembered, Mr. Kohn accused certain members of resorting to trickery in the organization of the board. Speaking with a Bee on the subject this morning, President Hubbard said: "We expect Mr. Kohn to establish the charges made at the last meeting, and prefer that his remarks be put in writing, so there will be no misapprehension as to what he has to say."

THE UP-RIVER RESORT

And Other Matters for Consideration by the M. R. N. Co.

At the meeting to-morrow the transfer of the recently secured Peck property will take place and arrangements will at once be commenced for turning it into a first-class summer resort.

FLOWER STEALERS.

Residents of Madison and Other Streets Being Robbed Nightlc.

The flower sneak thief is again plying his lawless trade, and the lawns and flower beds on Madison, Jefferson and other streets are being nightly stripped of their perfumed products.

Said one victim to a Bee this morning: "The chief of police should instruct his men to keep a sharp lookout for the thieves and have them promptly arrested. Umbrellas and flowers in the opinion of some, are common property. My garden has been robbed regularly for two weeks and I propose putting a bullet in the thief one of these nights."

ANOTHER FORGERY VICTIM.

An Adept Does Up a Monroe Street Shoe Dealer.

The fine Italian hand of the forger who plied his work so successfully here a year ago is at it again. A week ago he mulcted the Gilbert Shoe company for a small sum, and Saturday he succeeded in passing a forged check drawn on Isaac D. Smead & Co. on Lyander, the Monroe street boot and shoe dealer. The check was for $14.

The worthless check was promptly protested when presented at the First National bank.

REV. J. W. DONNAN,

The Evangelist, at the West Toledo M. E. Church.

Last evening a series of revival meetings opened at the West Toledo M. E. church, with Rev. J. W. Donnan, of Bryan, in charge. There are excellent prospects for good results. Mr. Donnan, at the conference held in Toledo last September, withdrew from the regular pastorate to serve as agent for the superannuated preachers' society, and to engage in evangelical work. He has held meetings at Sidney, Delta, Ada and other points, with good success. Mr. Donnan is earnest, able and zealous, and will undoubtedly shortly assume a leading place in the evangelistic field.

WHICH IS WHICH,

Or Who Is Who?—The Matter of Detectives.

At the meeting of the police commissioners Saturday night John Manly was elected first detective and Wm. H. Spore, it was supposed, was made a plain detective. Just what was done or how the matter now stands is a puzzler. At any rate, Wm. H. Spore has in his pocket a commission as chief detective and Manly's commission reads "detective." This morning Chief Raitz ordered Mr. Spore to assume the duties of chief detective, and Commissioner Waring and Mayor Emmick told him to go ahead. Consequently Mayor Emmick told him to go ahead. Consequently he is in the office making details to-day.

TOLEDO GETS THERE.

Mr. Yaryan to Put Up a Wine Refining Apparatus in California.

H. T. Yaryan has completed a contract with Senator Stanford, of California, for a Yaryan wine refining apparatus, which is to be placed on the senator's vineyard at Vena, Cal. The vineyard comprises 5,600 acres and is the largest in the world. The apparatus will purify 3,000 gallons of wine an hour.

The contract whereby Messrs. Calvin and Thomas, of this city, controlled the Yaryan rights to California, have been changed and the Yaryan company has bought back a half interest. The apparatus that was knocked out in the United States court by Judge Ricks in the Put-in-Bay case, has been legalized by a recent act of congress.

Mr. Yaryan will go to California and personally supervise the erection of the plant.

THE GRAND PARENTS

Of the Human Race an Extinct Species.

It is Prof. Wright's belief that man is descended from some extinct species of the anthropoid ape, of which the apes of to-day may be degenerate specimens, the genus having descended as well as ascended in the scale of existence. Nor does this conflict at all with the divine gift of mind and soul. It is as reasonable to believe the allwise Creator would uplift and bring into nearness with himself a noble animal already evoluted as to create a new body in line with lower animals, yet superior. Prof. Wright is a close student, an acute observer and an independent thinker. Once a plausible theory presents itself to his mind he studies possibilities and probabilities, makes comparisons and forms reasonable conclusions. The lecture Saturday night was one of great interest and well attended. Some fine views were thrown upon the wall. To-night the physiological argument will be considered.

JOAN OF ARC GIRLS

Surprise Mrs. A. P. Stevens with a Visit and Beautiful Presents.

The residence of Dr. Jaeger on the East Side was invaded yesterday afternoon by a bevy of young ladies from Joan of Arc assembly to pay a farewell visit to Mrs. A. P. Stevens. Mrs. Stevens was pleased to see them, though somewhat surprised, as she had taken leave of them on last Friday evening. But dumbfounded is the only word that expresses her feeling when Miss Clara Speckhardt, on behalf of the assembly, presented her with an elegant silver blotter, a silver card case and pencil, and a beautiful gold pen and holder. Knowing what a thorough utilitarian is this little lady, a selection was made of articles that are always useful on an editor's table. Mrs. Stevens was delighted and expressed her thanks gracefully, but was too much surprised and affected by this evidence of affection on the part of the girls whom she had worked for and befriended, and who look upon her as a personal friend, to be able to make a formal speech. Indeed there was nothing formal about the gathering, and after an hour of merry chat, the girls bade Mrs. Stevens a second good-bye, wishing her the success she merits in her new field of work.

CHINAMAN ROBBED

By a Negro Who Lays Him Oue With a Club.

Sun Loo, a Chinaman running a laundry on Washington street, was attacked in his place of business by a negro Saturday night who knocked him down with a club and then robbed his cash drawer of about $5. Later in the night Charles Wilson, a negro, was arrested on suspicion of having committed the crime, and later he confessed. The case will be heard in police court to-morrow morning. Sun Loo was severely injured by the negro's club and his head is badly cut. Two other men who were arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the affair were released after tne confession of Wilson.

THE BREWERIES.

A Difference Between Employers and Employes.

There seems to be no end to labor troubles in Toledo this spring. And now the brewers refuse to accede to demands made by their employes, and there is prospect of a general strike, unless some agreement can be reached, which does not appear likely. It seems the committee appointed to arbitrate the matter have failed of their purpose, as the brewers refuse to sign the contracts drawn up by the beer men's unions. The demands made are these: that beer drivers shall be paid $18; peddlers, who drive shipping wagon part of the time, $14; regularly employed shipping drivers, $13. The brewery men ask $14 per week for kettle men, etc., $13 for men employed in the wash house and shipping department, and for "first men," $16.50. In several cases the bosses offered to give $1 less than was asked, but the men also refused to work on Decoration Day, Labor day, Fourth of July, Thanksgiving day, Christmas and New Year's. The bosses will not give them a whole holiday except on Christmas and New Year's. Another demand is made that inside the breweries the men be given beer free of charge, but finally agreed to compromise by inserting "in proper quantities" instead of "free of charge." At the meeting called for Sunday evening at Clark's hall, only two representatives of the brewers were present.

THE PASTORS' UNION.

Prof. Wright Talks to the Members This Morning.

An exceedingly interesting meeting was held by the Pastors' union at the First Congregational church this morning, Rev. J. H. Bethards presiding. Rev. G. M. Candee conducted devotional exercises, which were followed by the minutes of the previous meeting, read by the secretary, Rev. A. M. Williams.

Rev. E. Dyer's paper, which was to have been read this morning, was postponed for four weeks, as Prof. George Frederick Wright, of Oberlin, was present and the pastors desired to hear some of this gentleman's progressive ideas. Prof. Wright chose for his subject "National Limits to Historical Criticisms." In his remarks he stated that many of the so-called intelligent men who were pleased to criticise the old and new testament were weak on the point upon which they considered themselves the strongest. He thinks that the old testament is accepted in a great measure by the indorsement of the new testament writers, and the question is how much confidence have we in the new testament; that miracles are not as grotesque and absurd as some people imagine, and that there is an air of reality in the old testement from beginning to end. In regard to the story of Jonah and the whale, he considered that, to gain a result, it was easier to get Jonah out of the Mediterranean sea by letting the whale swallow him than it was to let him float on a log. Criticisms on wrong purposes or ideas is a sure loss.

A vote of thanks was tendered Prof. Wright for his excellent and interesting and refreshing talk.

A committee of three was appointed to persuade the inforcement of the Sunday law. A vigorous protest was offered by the Pastors' union against Sunday base ball playing—the same to take the form of a resolution and be sent to the newspapers for publication.

The next meeting wil be held May 16 at 10 o'clock, paper to be given by Rev. L. H. Johnson.

KINDERGARTEN WORK.

Mrs. Cunningham's Observations in the City of the Straits.

A Bee dropped into the Free Kindergarten on Adams street this morning, where 25 bright, happy little ones are being taught the principles that will lay a foundation for good manhood and womanhood. Mrs. Cunningham's kindly face beamed with enthusiasm, when asked about her recent trip to Detroit. "I went to Detroit," she said, "for the purpose of paying a visit to the free kindergartens of that city. I returned encouraged, and with a new impetus for my work. I visited the Franklin street kindergarten, and found the principal, Miss Olga Meyrowitz, pre-eminently fitted for her work. Miss Terry, kindergartner at the Home for the Friendless, gave me several specimens of work done by her little ones, the average age being four years. The marching of these babies was phenomenal in its exactness, two dots of two years doing as well as the older ones. I next went to St. Vincent's Orphanage, where a kindergarten numbering 45 is in charge of Sister Frances, a nun whose heart is in her work. The marching was well done, while the exercises with dumb bells was the finest I ever saw. I then visited Miss Reid's kindergarten at the "Campau Mission." Miss Reid has been in Detroit but three months, yet she has organized four free kindergartens, numbering 60 children each, having an average attendance of 50, a domestic training school numbering nearly one hundred, and a training class for kindergartners. On Saturday morning I visited Miss Reid's domestic training school, where children from 8 to 14 years of age are given the benefit of thorough instruction in every branch of domestic duty. A class of 17 were piecing a quilt, a talk being given at the same time by their teacher upon the cotton plant, needles, how manufactured, etc. Fifteen girls were etching, while another class of the same number were sewing carpet rags. A class in cooking served a two-course breakfast, of which I was asked to partake, and accepted willingly, as the viands sent forth a savory odor difficult to resist. Miss Reid has the proper idea of labor—that it need not be mean drudgery, but that it ennobles and refines. She strives to inculcate this truth: 'Who sweeps a room from a motive pure, makes both that and the action fine.'"

The number of errors made in handling the above mail was 134 of matter of the first-class and 28 of matter of all other classes, making 11,218 pieces handled correctly to each error made in matter of the first class and 42,675 pieces handled correctly to each error made in matter of all other classes. The average per cent. correct on all matter handled for the month named is 99-99.

The number of errors made by the patrons of the Toledo postoffice during the month of April was 2,199 of all classes of mail matter, of which 229 pieces were corrected at the postoffice and forwarded to destination, 1,199 pieces returned to sender for correct address. There was held for postage 293 pieces of matter of the first-class, 371 pieces of the third-class and 97 pieces of the fourth-class, making a total of 761 pieces of mail matter held for postage.

Five case examinations were held during the month of April in which 6,219 cards (representing postoffices) were handled, of which 6,203 were handled correctly, making 16 errors in the whole number handled, and the average per cent. correct 99-74.

President Harrison has taken pains to say for the public ear that he will take no immediate steps to urge an international silver congress. Evidently he doesn't fully understand the political pulse, and does not purpose taking any chances.

The police commissioners revised their work last Saturday night and did better. Mr. Raitz was again elected chief and Mr. O'Dwyer was elected lieutenant. Detective Manley was elected chief of detectives. The board had evidently studied public sentiment and the action Saturday night was unanimous. So let it end.

The New York Tribune doesn't exult with its republican contemporaries over the prospective free registry law, and claim it for a "republican protectionist triumph." It says: "The measure is one for closing American ship-yards and working irreparable injury to every industry dependent upon them." The Tribune is wrong in its conclusions, though right in saying it is not republican policy. Restriction of trade is republican.

Gov. McKinley went to New York last week and improved the occasion to say that he believes Gov. Pattison would be the strongest man the democrats could nominate for president. Gov. McKinley's head is not far from perpendicular in this matter. Mr. Pattison would be a strong candidate in the east and would carry every southern and western democratic state. Nothing more could be asked, at the election.

In Wilmington, Delaware, a woolen mill and an iron mill have just closed, throwing 600 persons out of employment. The proprietors say they can't run business satisfactorily under existing tariff laws. Major McKinley ought to go back to congress to help them with another tax law fixed just to suit their particular cases.

Senators Allison and Hoar are the two men who, in position to know whereof they speak, and who would speak differently if they could, have said at different junctures since the billion-dollar congress took hold of the treasury—"the government is bankrupt." That it is not virtually true is due to the wonderful sustaining power and the infinite patience of its millions of tax-payers, and not to any care and conscientiousness on the part of its officers.

When President Cleveland desired to pay indemnity in the case of destruction of life and property in China he asked congress for money to be so used, and received it. President Harrison unlawfully used the secret service fund of the state department to pay the Italian indemnity. The house of representatives, in adopting Mr. Chipman's amendment to the diplomatic appropriation bill, administered a dignified and proper rebuke to President Harrison, and the bad precedent he established will not probably be followed by any of his successors, whether the bill as amended passes the senate or not.

In Extra Census Bulletin No. 19 some interesting information is given relative to the total numbers of dwellings in some of the states and cities, and the average number of persons in a dwellings. For the four most populous states the following are figures: Pennsylvania, 999,364 dwellings, persons to a dwelling, 5.26; New York, 895,593 dwellings, persons to a dwelling, 6.70; Ohio, 720,414 dwellings, 5.10 persons to a dwelling; Illinois, 669,812 dwellings, 5.71 persons to a dwelling. It will be seen this gives the Buckeye resident the most room to swing around in. In an enumeration of seven large cities, New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Boston, Baltimore and Minneapolis, the most crowded dwellings are those of New York, 18.52 persons to each dwelling, while Philadelphia has only 5.60 persons to a dwelling, the smallest average in the seven.

The New York World advocates the imposition of an income tax and makes strong argument in its favor, as a fair measure, to equalize the burdens of government. It must be admitted that when the income tax was a law, and since, the only persons who seriously opposed the proposition were those who would be required to pay under the law. And this opposition is only another illustration of the proneness of people to evade taxation. However imposed the first impulse is to dodge the law, and in every state in the union great difficulty is experienced in framing and enforcing tax laws—laws that are just and equal in operation and onerous in proportion to the need of government. The income tax has good points and is no more objectionable than many other devices for obtaining the support of the individual for the benefit of the government.

The Omaha Bee is a true-blue republican paper, yet it flies in the face of republican tradition and says, of the sugar trust:

> There is danger that the people will be deprived of most of the benefit intended by the legislation of the last congress regarding sugar. There are two ways in which the people may defend themselves against the actions of the trust. One is by bringing the law to bear upon it and the other is to repeal the duty on refined sugars. The government should promptly try the former, and if that shall not be found effective then recourse should be had to the latter remedy. The rapacious monopoly must not be allowed to exact unchallenged tribute from every household in the land.

The sure remedy when others fail, according to the Omaha man's logic, is to "repeal the duty on refined sugars." If to repeal a duty breaks up a trust, to levy and maintain duty helps to create and foster trusts. There is no other valid conclusion. The independent westerner who lives in an agricultural state is progressing in his tariff education.

The selfishness of human nature often warps the judgment of otherwise good business men. The improvement of the great inland waterways from Buffalo to Duluth and Chicago must benefit the east as well as the west, yet New York papers opposed the twenty-foot project, so strongly recommended by Gen. Poe. The fear of a large appropriation could not have been the motive of opposition, for this government can afford to expend whatever is needed for important improvements, such as this particular one. It is the stealings and the extravagancies to which the people object. The New York opposition must have been begotten of the jealousy which the commercial metropolis too frequently manifests towards its great western rival, and for which display of feeling the New Yorkers should be ashamed of themselves. This country is too big for one city on the Atlantic to absorb all the greatness of trade and commerce of the inhabitants between the oceans. Chicago is the metropolis of the central section, and on the royal highway which nature has provided are many large cities. Their interests are closely connected with the east and west, and whatever will benefit the lake trade must help all sections. The channel improvement is needed, else it would never have been suggested. There is business—commercial business, not jobbery, involved in this project.

THE MICHIGAN PLAN.

It is announced that the Michigan supreme court is about to pronounce the electoral law, passed in 1891, unconstitutional. If the court so lends itself to partisanship it will only follow the precedent frequently found in Ohio jurisprudence, and will be in line with the policy of the supreme court of the United States, which has been more partisan than judicial when party policy required such exercise of authority.

The question involved being political (and democrats believe good politics lies in the election of a democratic president this year), Gov. Winans will be justified in calling an extra session to adopt new measures for the electoral count. Indeed, it is said in advance, that he will exercise that prerogative, and democratic assemblymen say they will pass a law giving themselves the power to cast the electoral vote of Michigan if the supreme court interferes. Such a law would be constitutional, though obnoxious to present public sentiment. Formerly the plan was customary in several states. The democrats will not resort to this plan unless forced to do so by the republican court. The method of casting the vote heretofore provided is eminently fair, inasmuch as the people by congressional districts are to determine the question to suit themselves; but if republicans do not like it, because it is fair, they can take the alternative and receive nothing. Such is the present situation, thanks to the people, who elected a democratic governor and legislature.

SEMI-SECULAR EDUCATION.

Much interest is felt in Catholic circles in the United States in consequence of the dispatch which Archbishop Corrigan, of New York, received from Rome on Friday last, which read: "Faribault system condemned. Special cases tolerated." The dispatch was read by the Archbishop at the ceremony of consecrating Bishop Gabriels, at Albany, and the ecclesiastics present manifested much satisfaction. In church circles this papal order is considered a rebuke to the liberalism of Archbishop Ireland, who is pronounced in advocacy of the public school system. Cardinal Gibbons is a warm defender of Archbishop Ireland in the controversy which has reached the Vatican and which has called forth a decision from the pope.

The so-called Faribault system originated in Archbishop Ireland's diocese. By consent, in the little Minnesota town of Faribault, all children attend the public schools, which are conducted like all other places of public instruction, with no secular distinction. At the closing hour, the Catholic children remain, and teachers selected by the priest assume charge for the purpose of religious instruction only. The arrangement saves the church much expense, is satisfactory to all parties, and having the warm approval of Archbishop Ireland, is free from conflict and devoid of objection in the good community if Faribault.

The system, however, is an innovation, and so strongly did the question involve Catholic discussion that finally the Archbishop was obliged to go to Rome to defend his position. Then an attack from the Civilta Catholica, the papal organ, drew forth a personal letter to Pope Leo in which Archbishop Ireland protested against the "unwarranted public attack upon a prelate of the church within the walls of the vatican." The Pope addressed a diplomatic reply, concluding with the apostolic blessing, but the newspaper continued its attack upon the heresy of Faribaultism. Several months have elapsed since Archbishop Ireland went to Rome, where he now is, and the final decision is just reached. The liberalism of the northwest diocese is condemned and parochial schools must be entirely separate from secular places of education.

This question is interesting to all classes but the principle involved is one of Catholic discipline. If the church prefers to maintain separate schools it is its privilege so to do. The state requires the education of all children. This much it has the right to demand. Further it does not intend to go.

The ways and means committee will recommend a $100 limit to the quantity of wearing apparel a tourist may bring in free of duty. If the recommendation is adopted it will be a cruel blow to the steamship companies. When Americans cannot save the cost of the voyage to England several times in purchases made there, fewer of them will "go over."

The Mississippi river being on an unusual boom the United States war vessel Concord has gone as far north as Memphis, and St. Louis wants a visit, also. Along the banks the negroes are excited and war stories are afloat. At Memphis somebody told a darkey that the government sent the boat to take all the colored folks to Oklahoma, and hundreds of them commenced packing their bundles, ready to start.

It is Jay Gould's turn to be reported ill. Jim has not time to be sick as this is his boom week for president.

INDIANA REPUBLICANS.

Fort Wayne, Ind., May 9.—The date for holding the Indiana state republican convention has been changed. It will be held in this city June 23 instead of June 28. Fort Wayne will probably build a big wigwam to accommodate the meeting.

The change was made to accommodate the farmers in the southern part of the state, as at the time of the first named date they would be in the midst of harvest.

AMERICAN MONTE CARLO.

New York, May 9.—M. P. Phillips, who in behalf of a syndicate of capitalists, visited France in order to study the gambling rooms at Monte Carlo, returned yesterday on the La Bourgogne. It is the syndicate's purpose to get permission to open a resort similar to Monte Carlo at one of the American pleasure resorts.

EXPORT PROHIBITION.

London, May 9.—A dispatch from St. Peters says that a decree permitting the export of oats and corn will be published on Friday next and another decree permitting the export of wheat will be published three or four days later.

NATURE'S FUEL.

What Shall the Price be for Natural Gas?

The Northwestern Ready to Mutually Agree—Legal Complications Involved—What Will the Council Do?

At the meeting of the council this evening some action will probably be taken relative to a price by which the Northwestern Natural Gas company will supply Toledo with gas. The price is expected to be fixed at 25 cents per thousand.

The gas company will introduce no contract or ordinance in the matter one way or the other. The management states it is ready to submit to anything fair and reasonable.

It is the opinion of prominent attorneys of the city that it is not necessary for the gas company to consult the council in the matter of fixing a price by which it shall sell gas. It is claimed that the city as a competitor of the Northwestern Gas company forfeits its right to fix the price by which it shall derive its revenue.

The circuit court held that under the original contract entered into between the city and the Northwestern for 10 years, subsequent laws do not apply to Toledo as long as the contract is in force, which continues until July, 1896, and that the price of gas in that time must be decided upon by mutual agreement between the council and the company.

In case of disagreement the court may fix the price.

While the company is advised as to the legal situation, the management is inclined to take a business view of affairs and settle difficulties amicably if possible.

In conversation with a Bee this morning Superintendent Daly, of the Northwestern, said: "We recognize the fact that there is some question as to whether we are legally compelled to consult the council in this matter. However, we prefer the business method, and that is to mutually agree and avoid any clash. All we want is fair treatment, and nothing more."

Because the four big republican crows of Ohio are all quietly perched on the same rail, it is no evidence that all of them are not anxiously watching the same hill of corn.—Springfield Democrat.

The judge who sat in the Frank Van Loon case does not seem to have been bothered by any of the doubts felt by those less conversant with the testimony as to the guilt of the prisoner. With all doubt as to the identity of Van Loon and the Columbus Grove bank robber removed, there will be universal approval of the verdict and sentence to death.—Columbus Dispatch.

The News' editorial last Sunday, on Griffin's alleged keynote, appears to have struck a responsive chord in Toledo, where Griffin lives. Both the Bee and the Commercial reproduced it, the latter with some alleged regrets that the News was not as "harmonious" as it ought to be. We regret the necessity ourselves, "but the truth is mighty and must prevail," be it for harmony or for sheol.—Columbus Sunday News.

It is certainly remarkable that no state convention has yet instructed their delegates to Minneapolis to vote for the nomination of President Harrison. Did any president serving his first term ever meet such a cold reception at the convention of his party to nominate his successor? With all the officials on his side and the general rule for a second term in his favor, Mr. Harrison ought to have no trouble whatever in securing the nomination. If he is nominated at all, it will seem to be done merely out of regard for the second term rule.—Columbus Press.

CURRENT COMMENT.

It is evident that, whatever the sentiment of the republican rank and file in Connecticut, the party leaders do not want Harrison.—New Haven News.

Indorsing the national administration and declaring for free silver is the California idea of a joke. But Mr. Harrison won't take it that way. He will separate the wheat from the chaff, the indorsement for the declaration, and be thankful.—Kansas City Star.

So far as Tennessee is concerned democrats are almost a unit for Cleveland's renomination because in the great New Yorker they see a man of proper convictions and great courage, who will make their cause his own until a day of triumph ultimately dawns.—Nashville American.

After a few more exhibitions of contemptible folly in legislating against the Chinese, that patient people may see the propriety of sending a few missionaries to this country for the purpose of spreading the doctrine of justice and liberality. There is as yet no foreign missionary society in China but the inhabitants of that country might be convinced of the propriety of immediately establishing one.—Chicago Times.

LORD BRAMWELL,

Better Known as Sir George William Wilsher, Dead.

London, May 9.—The Right Hon. Sir George William Wilsher, Lord Bramwell, died to-day.

He was born in London in 1808. He acquired a practical knowledge of banking in his father's counting house, but concluded to try the legal profession. He obtained a large practice as a lawyer. In 1849, was a member, with Sir J. Jervais and others, of the common law procedure commission which resulted in the common law procedure act of 1852.

In 1851 he became a queen's counsel, and was a member of the commission for inquiring into the law of partnership. He differed from a majority of the commission and recommended the adoption of a law of limited liability, as now existing.

In answer to the objection that persons might deal with limited liability companies, believing them to be unlimited Lord Bramwell sugested the adoption of the word "limited" to the designation of the former. This suggestion was adopted and gave great satisfaction.

In 1856 he was made a baron of the exchequer, and received the honor of knighthood. In October, 1876, he was made a judge of the intermediate court of appeals and admitted to the privy council. He retired from the bench at the close of 1881, when a complimentary banquet, attended by the judges and principal members of the legal profession, was held in his honor.

In 1882, he was raised to the peerage with the title of Baron Bramwell, of Hever, in the county of Kent. He leaves only a daughter.

THE TOLEDO GRAIN RATES

The Toledo Passenger Committee—Rates Authorized on Lumber from Michigan—Movements of Railroaders and Readable Cinders.

A reduction in eastbound sixth-class freight rates goes into effect to-day. The reduction is to a basis of 20 cents per 100 pounds charge to New York. It is now 15 1-2 cents. To Philadelphia it was formerly 17 1-2 cents. This is reduced to 13 1-2 cents. Toledo to Baltimore it is reduced from 11 1-2 to 12 1-2 cents; to Boston from 24 1-2 to 20 1-2; to Pittsburg from 10 to 8 cents, and to other points accordingly. Future meetings of the Toledo committee will be held subject to the call of the chairman. In connection with this matter the following resolution was adopted at the last meeting:

Whereas, the continued absence of members of this committee and consequent failure to follow up the introduction of their resolutions, many of which are now, and have been for some time, pending, is a serious hindrance to the successful operation of the association; be it therefore

Resolved, That the committee shall stand adjourned, subject to the call of the chairman.

THE TOLEDO GUN CLUB

Joins Hands With the Toledo Yacht Club.

And the Organizations Will Manage Gard Island Jointly—The Club House to be Renovated and Caterer Secured.

Some time ago the Toledo Gun club made a proposition to the Toledo Yacht club whereby the former was to given the joint use of Gard island for a term of years on certain conditions.

The yacht club after discussing the proposition decided to accept it, and the gun club will take possession as soon as the club house is removed and a caterer secured.

The Toledo Gun club is one of the most flourishing organizations of the kind in the country and Gard island will give the boys something that has been sadly needed—good practice grounds. The club house, it is understood, is to be fitted up handsomely and the caterer and attendants are to remain on the island constantly during the season

RUINED PEACH ORCHARDS

Serious Disaster to Local Fruit Raisers.

Every Peach Tree Along the Ottawa River Dead or Dying—Talk with Gus Lang and Others.

A sad disaster has happened to the fruit raisers of this vicinity. There is scarcely a live peach tree along the entire length of the Ottawa river. Not only are this season's crops destroyed, but the trees—whole orchards—have been practically wiped out.

Mr. Gus Lang, the owner of the widely known fruit farm and vineyard known as Lang's Bend, on Ten Mile creek, is among the heaviest losers.

Mr. T. H. Thurstin, who owns a thriving young fruit farm adjoining Mr. Lang's has also lost heavily.

"My loss is severe," said Mr. Lang, and the strangest thing about it is that the older trees seem to have suffered more than the young ones."

"What do you estimate your loss at, Mr. Lang?"

"I couldn't tell you exactly, but I have lost about 300 trees—all bearing—and it will take many years to replace them."

"Are the trees dead, or is it merely that the frost has killed this season's crop?"

"Oh, the trees are dead. I expect some of the younger trees may bud and possibly bloom, but the trees will never amount to much."

"How do you account for it?"

"I cannot account for it. There was only one real cold night last winter when it was 16 below, but I don't think that did it. I have lost three orchards in the same way, and I am unable to quite account for it."

"Are your neighbors' orchards as badly hurt as yours?"

"Yes, about the same. Mr. Thurstin's across the way, is about the same, and all the neighbors tell the same story. I don't know how it may be across the creek. I have known the frost to be so heavy as to kill the corn over there while it never touched the peach orchards over here."

Mr. Lang is, however, fortunate. He has laid out and has in process of cultivation about 20 acres of what promises to be one of the finest vineyards and orchards in the country. The peaches, of course, are but a part of the product of the fruit raisers.

POINT PLACE SOLD

To William Gertz, Who Will Erect Another Hotel

Not Quite as Elaborate as the Old, but Just the Thing for Hunters and Fishermen.

Mr. James Gibbs has sold Point Place—its lands and buildings—to Mr. William Gertz, foreman of Finlay's brewery, and the buyer proposes erecting on the site of the old building, or near it, an hotel, which, while perhaps not as elaborate or large as the handsome building which burned down a few years ago, will be a goodly structure.

It will be erected with a view of accommodating hunters, fishermen and the public generally. Edgewater, just adjoining, is getting to be quite a village, and new cottages are being contracted for and will go up this summer.

The consideration was $6,000, while it is said the docks alone formerly cost $8,000. It is a dead bargain. Many will be glad to learn that the popular resort and its pleasure are to be revived.

How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

THE ELEVATOR BOY.

An up-to-date directory of all that's in the block,
And everything that's going on, he knows it like a clock;
He knows the fair typewriter girls, the blonde on floor eleven,
The red-haired one who works on four, the brown-eyed one on seven.
He knows that Jenkens comes at eight and Johnson goes at ten,
Of everything and everyone he knows the why and when.
If you've detective work to do 'twould pay you to employ
That knowing individual—the elevator boy.

He's somewhat hidden from the world, its favors, and its frowns,
Although he's where he ever sees a lot of ups and downs.
From early morn till late at night he's always on the wing,
Shut in his little iron cage suspended by a string.
And nothing pleases him so much as now and then to get
A fifteen minutes' lay-off while he smokes a cigarette;
For just such simple things as that are oases of joy
That glad the desert duty of the elevator boy.

It tickles him tremendously to get somebody in Whose nerves are very sensitive and then just let 'er spin,
And every time he has to stop by some peculiar quirk,
Produce "that tired feeling" by a sort of sea-sick jerk.
But, notwithstanding all his tricks, there's no one else you'll find
Who does one-half so much as he to elevate mankind;
And when we think how much there is his patience to annoy
We quite forgive the antics of the elevator boy.

The oldest woman in the country who is a preacher, it is thought, is the Rev. Lydia Sexton of Seattle, now 93 years of age. She has been in service about half a century. For eight or ten years she was an exhortor before receiving a regular license to preach in 1851. Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois were her field prior to 1870, when, with her husband she removed to Kansas. Seattle was adopted as her home three years ago. She has since then conducted many revival and other meetings, but failing eyesight threatens to terminate her activity ere long. She hopes to live to be a full 100 years old.

It is announced that Dr. Mitscherlich, of Freiburg, in Baden, has patented a process for manufacturing clothing out of wood pulp. A tribe of Indians in the valley of the Amazon has long practiced a more direct method of securing clothing from certain trees of the forest. The bark on a log somewhat shorter than the person to be clothed is pounded untill it becomes thin and flexible. Then it is slipped off from the log and dried. Finaly, armholes are cut in it, and the dress is thereby finished. It is said to be a delightfully cool attire for a tropical climate.

The first big shipment of it will be made to this country this year.

DOLLY'S MAKE-BELIEVE.

"The Eastbrook's ball comes off next Thursday—the very grandest affair of the season—and we are all invited."

Blanche Kenyon looked elated as she held up the square bristol board upon which, in stylish characters, the fashionable Mrs. Eastbrook expressed her desire to meet at her house—the finest house in the whole country—Mrs. Kenyon and her daughters.

"But," ejaculated Mrs. Kenyon in perplexity, "I don't see how Dolly is to go."

Blanche's stern lip curled scornfully.

"Dolly, indeed! Why, she is only a school girl, and never attended a ball in her life."

Mrs. Kenyon, a pale, gentle-looking woman, with a mildly protesting air, sighed dolefully.

"We are getting poorer every day, I believe," she said gloomily. "Really, Blanche, you must win a rich husband soon or we shall be in a sore plight."

Blanche laughed lightly.

"You know that Mark Warrington will be at the ball," she said, significantly. "He is Mrs. Eastbrook's nephew, and, in fact, the ball is to be given in his honor. He is worth a cool million."

"I wish—" Mrs. Kenyon checked herself.

"If there is half a chance for anyone, mamma, I think I shall score a victory," the girl intervened, with a self-sacrificed air; "only don't go dragging Dolly into this discussion; she's far too pretty. I would not stand a shadow of chance with her to the fore. And you cannot afford to properly clothe two daughters. No; wait until I am married and gone before you bring Dolly out."

"Dolly," cried her mother, fretfully, "come into the house! You are too old to be frollicking about like a child."

Miss Dolly pouted.

"Too old! And yet I am always too young to have any pleasure or enjoy myself in any way. Here, now, is this Eastbrook ball. I will wager that we are all invited, but no one will be permitted to go but Blanche. Mamma, I call it a shame!"

Dolly left the room when this little conference was over, but her sweet face was flushed and the bright eyes sparkled with indignation.

"I know what I'll do," she said to herself, with a rebellious little pout, "if I cannot attend the ball, at least I shall see it."

The night of the Eastbrook ball had arrived. In all this suburban town there was no house like the Eastbrook mansion, with its large, shady grounds. These were brilliantly illuminated on the night of the ball, and it would be quite easy for Dolly to make her appearance long after the mother and sister had departed for the festal scene.

Miss Dolly wore a brown serge gown, high in the neck and long in the sleeves—just the neat house dress which she had worn that afternoon. Around her shoulders she threw a white Shetland shawl; a "fascinator" adorned her curly head. She smiled and bowed at her own reflection in the mirror.

"I feel like the marchioness," she said aloud. "It is only make-believe, but that is better than nothing. Miss Kenyon"—nodding to the bright face in the glass—"how do you do? Charmed to meet you, I am sure! Will you waltz the 'Blue Danube' with me?"

She laughed aloud—a sweet, clear laugh—and then she slipped from the house, out of the white gate which led into the Eastbrook grounds, and a little later she was alone in a secluded portion of the place. The band was playing sweetly. How near it sounded!

"It's a shame—a downright shame!" she exclaimed aloud. "Blanche has all the pleasure and I am always left out. We were both invited to Mrs. Eastbrook's ball to-night, but only Blanche was allowed to go, while I, like Cinderella, must remain in the chimney corner!"

"Ahem!"

The sound was close at her side and made Dolly start with a little cry of terror. A tall dark figure stood before her in the midst of the shrubbery; by the light of the Chinese lanterns Dolly could see how handsome he was—young and handsome.

He bowed with deference. Just at that moment the band struck up the "Blue Danube." The stranger drew near.

"May I have the pleasure"— he stopped short—"will you waltz the 'Blue Danube' with me?" he asked lightly. "I am Mark Warrington, the nephew of Mrs. Eastbrook, and you—

"I am Dolly Kenyon," the girl cried eagerly, her heart beating fast and hard, for had not her own words—her foolish make-believe—come true?

She hesitated.

"I overheard your remarks just now, Miss Kenyon," the young man went on, "and I agree with you—quite. It is a shame that you are not in the ballroom; and yet—perhaps I am selfish enough to be glad. Come, let us waltz out here; the ground is smooth, and—"

He extended his arm; Dolly was in position in an instant and after that she knew no more. She was conscious of floating through space in the arms of the handsome stranger; the waltz was simply perfection; the poetry of motion was nowhere. The girl sighed when it was ended and Mr. Warrington echoed the sigh. If life could be all like this—all Chinese lanterns and band music and dancing upon smooth ground with the starlit sky overhead!

But it ended at last, and Dolly knew that it was getting late and she must return home. Her new friend escorted her to the gate; with a low obeisance he took his departure, while Dolly went into the house and retired, but not to sleep. She had seen that face before, but there had been no presentation and Dolly had come to think of the rich Mark Warrington as the possible husband of her sister, Blanche.

Dolly is Mrs. Mark Warrington now; but she is the same fresh-hearted child as of yore; and often and often does she think of the Eastbrook ball and how she made believe. All her life is a blessed reality now.—St. Louis Star-Sayings.

The clay-eaters of the Carolinas are not the only people who possess that curious taste. It is said to be prevalent in all the countries of the torrid zone and in Finland and Sweden. In the Carolinas clay is eaten, according to popular belief, for the arsenic contained in it.

Not many physicians make great therapeutic discoveries. For the most part they content themselves with administering judiciously what is prescribed in the books. To Dr. J. C. Ayer, however, is due the credit of discovering that greatest of blood purifiers—Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

A man eating shark, eighteen and a half feet long, came ashore on the beach at Trescott, Me., recently. Its stomach contained a sheepand several dogfish.

Mark Kenniston, of Phillips, Me., had the smallest bear probably ever seen by man, and he has been mounted artistically. It is six inches from tip to tip and is three inches in height.

A DECISIVE BLOW FOR FREEDOM

From the tyrannical yoke of those despotic allies, dyspepsia, constipation and liver complaint, is struck when the quondom victim of their galling supremacy has taken a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Then they vamose defeated, and health resumes its welcome sway. Such is the invariable experience of those who use the ruling alterative to get rid of these associate evils. Anti-dyspeptics, cholagogues, drastic cathartics are as the sands of the sea, numberless and—useless. The happy blending of remedial properties, derived from nature's botanic storehouse, with a pure, modified spirituous basis existent in the Bitters, not only initiate but effectuate the joint cure of chronic indigestion, irregularity of the bowels and perversion of the bile. The surest defense against malaria is this agreeable fortifier and preservative of health under unfavorable atmospheric conditions. It counteracts a tendency to rheumatism, rouses the kidneys and bladder when sluggish, from inaction, and endows a debilitated, nervous invalid with vigor. Incomparable as a tonic.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

The queen of Portugal invariably sits by her husband while he does all his work.

Rider Haggard thinks England the most interesting and the least explored country in the world.

The poet Burns spelled his name Burness (his family name) until the publication of his poems in 1786.

The grand duke Paul of Russia is so tall that he is obliged to carry his bed with him as he cannot find one at any hotel that is long enough to hold all of him.

Miss Jeanne Lawrence, the well-known American cantatrice, a pupil of M. Criticos, achieved a grand success on the occasion of her recent debut at Nice in the part of Gilda in "Rigoletto."

Father Duren, a Roman Catholic priest in Wisconsin, who rescued the daughter of a wealthy Parisian from drowning in the Mediterranean last winter, has received from her father $55,000, which he will devote to charitable purposes.

Lord Tennyson is not so full of poetry and aristocratic self-esteem as not to know every country public house within a dozen miles of his residence where it is possible to get a good three pennyworth of bread and cheese as a stiffener to a tankard of ale.

Senor Artario Crespo, a son of General Crespo, the leader of the present revolution that is being waged in Venezuela against the administration of President Palacio, has arrived in San Antonio, Tex., to stay until the war in which his father is engaged is ended.

Pierre Loti's excellences are not confined to literary work nor naval service, skilled as he is in both. He is a fine pianist, the composer of many melodies and draws admirably. Though he makes books he reads very few, at least nautical books. Not long ago he remarked to a friend: "It is very curious that I should be accused of imitating Flaubert. I am almost ashamed to confess it, but I have never read him."

According to present plans, Emperor William will start on his trip to Norway in the early part of July. He will enter the harbor of Bodo, if possible, on the yacht Hohenzollern, July 9, and proceed thence to Skaaro, the whaling station belonging to Herr Giavers. The first whale hunt will be undertaken July 12 on board Herr Giavers' boats. The early part of July is believed to be the best time for the emperor to go whale hunting, as the animals are most numerous in the Norwegian waters about that time.

WORKS BOTH WAYS.

"It is remarkable how your trip abroad has improved you."

"It is the use of the Carlsbad Waters which has improved me, more than my trip abroad. I have gained in flesh and strength since I use them. Many persons use them for reducing flesh, because the Waters remove all unhealthy tissues and superabundance of fat, but they also build up firm and solid flesh, which is a sign of perfect health. I also use the Carlbad Sprudel Salt early in the morning, with a glass full of the Water. It increases the laxative action of the same. If you ever suffer from chronic catarrh of the stomach, biliousness, gout or rheumatism, I advise you to use them. Every druggist has them." The "genuine" have the signature of "Eisner & Mendelson Co.," Agents, N. Y., on every bottle.

FOR YOUNG WOMEN.

Union Meeting at the First Congregational.

Miss Wilson Discusses "The New Movement"—Interesting Talks by Dr. McGaw and Prof. Fisk.

A large audience was present at the First Congregational church last night, the occasion being a union service of the First Congregational and First Presbyterian churches and the Young Women's Christian association of Toledo. The address of the evening, "A New Movement for Young Women," was made by Miss Elizabeth Wilson, international secretary of the Y. W. C. A. Miss Wilson is a ready speaker, and her earnest, impressive manner convinces her auditors that she is thoroughly imbued with the spirit of the new movement."

In every city of 50,000 inhabitants, at least one-fifth are young women; of this number 5,000 support themselves by means of some business, trade or profession. Where shall these young women, many of them without parents or homes, spend their leisure hours? There are plenty of places for them—the theater, the dance hall, the streets—these are the places Satan provides. Will the Christian people of this community provide counter attractions? Thousands of dollars are spent every year on young men; are our yuong women less valuable? To the question, What shall we do with our young women? the Young Women's Christian association says: "Give us of your wealth, and influence, and love, and co-operation, and we will establish lunch rooms and reading rooms, gymnasiums and training schools, and save thousands of souls for time and eternity."

The association is based on the Evangelical churches, and is officered by the Christian women of these churches, old and young. It's object is the uplifting of young women of all classes and nationalities. Its appliances are physical, social, intellectual and spiritual culture. Its ideal is, "Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are of good repute, whatsoever things are lovely, think on these things."

Miss Wilson spoke of the good work being done in Toledo by the association, and how much more might be done if the people would awake to the importance of the work. She closed with an appeal to each person present to make this subject a matter of personal responsibility, and ask of themselves the question, "What am I going to do about the young women of Toledo?"

Dr. McGaw followed with one of his characteristic speeches; brief, witty and to the point. He spoke in favor of the business training the association proposed to give to young women. A business education does not, in his opinion, unfit a woman for the duties of wifehood and motherhood. It is no detriment to a woman to be able to earn her own living without the assistance of any male relative, and while marriage, perhaps, is her natural destiny, still there are women who will remain single, some from choice, and some for—other reasons, and they should be fitted physically, mentally and socially to be independent.

Prof. Fisk then made an eloquent plea for the young women of Toledo. He said he had come here a stranger, but he had been very favorably impressed with the appearance of the working women of the city. The girls that are filling the places in stores and factories will not always be there. They will be wives, and mothers, and teachers. Let us throw around them good influences, give them training that shall fit them to be good mothers and thus confer blessings, not only on them, but upon generations yet unborn.

AMATEUR NAVIGATORS.

They Have a Rough Time on the Sound.

Yale Students Come Very Near Going to Davy Jones' Locker.

New Haven, Conn., May 9.—Six Yale students left this city on Saturday morning on a boat in which they intended to cross Long Island sound.

On the way they met friends on board the Yale, for which vessel they traded their own. With the Yale they then crossed the sound and had covered part of their homeward journey when the peak halyard broke. The wind was blowing a gale and the breakers washed over the boat, threatening to sink the vessel every moment. It was found that the pumps would not work, and at the most critical moment, when it seemed that destruction was inevitable, they found an old fruit can in the bottom of the boat.

With this they bailed the boat without a moment's rest during the entire time of 12 hours until 7 o'clock yesterday morning, when, after beating about until noon, they reached shore.

They landed here, completely worn out, one of their number, Noon, having to be carried home and placed under medical care.

AMONG THE OILERS.

Interesting Notes From St. Marys.

St. Marys, O., May 9.—(Special)—The Feeder Oil Co. has completed its No. 4 on the Chas. McKee farm. It is good for over 100 barrels. Their No. 8 on the same farm is doing 125 barrels. There are at present 15 oil wells located on this farm, which are daily producing about 1,200 barrels of oil. Several years ago the territory was considered worthless; now it is one of the most productive farms in the state. Mr. McKee's revenue from these wells amounted to $1,300 last month.

The Economy Oil Co. has just completed two wells on the Chas. McKee farm. No. 3 was shot after it was drilled in and is good for 75 barrels. No. 4 is doing about 100 barrels.

The Ohio Oil Co. has brought in their No. 16 on the Samuel Scott farm, near the reservoir, and it is good for about 30 barrels. This well is located in what was years ago considered the cream of the Ohio oil field, where nothing less than 300 or 400 barrel wells were completed, and clearly shows how rapidly the oil bearing rock is being drained.

The Ohio Oil Co. yesterday drilled in a big gasser on the John Stoker farm, near the bulkhead. It has a capacity of about 3,000,000 cubic feet.

The Blue Jay Oil Co., of this city, have just completed a wild-cat venture on the Cuckly farm, near Burkettsville, Darke county. It is a total failure, as there was not the least indication for oil or gas.

The Ohio Oil Co. has completed No. 1 on the P. Sweene farm, near Glynnwood. The well is one of the largest ever completed in the field and is doing better than 250 barrels. There is considerable stir over the result of this well, and more will be put down at once.

SET HIM RIGHT.

Geo. Augustus Sala, the well-known English writer, on his last Australian trip, wrote as follows to The London Daily Telegraph:

"I especially have a pleasant remembrance of the ship's doctor—a very experienced maritime medico indeed, who tended me most kindly during a horrible spell of bronchitis and spasmodic asthma, provoked by the sea fog which had swooped down on us just after we left San Francisco. But the doctor's prescriptions and the increasing warmth of the temperature as we neared the Tropics, and, in particular, a couple of Allcock's Porous Plasters clapped on—one on the chest and another between the shoulder blades—soon set me right."

One of the most remarkable sales of old silver ever held was at Edinburg lately. It included pieces belonging to the late Earl of Dunmore and the service of St. Martin's abbey in Perthshire. Several pieces were bought on commission from New York. The highest price ever obtained for old silver, $80 an ounce, was given for an early Italian double-handled cup and saucer, $420 being the price. The highest price heretofore had been $50 an ounce.

FOURTEEN YEARS OF SUFFERING

Mrs. Shoemaker's Experience in the United States and Canada.

A letter was received at this office a week or more ago, says the Detroit News, which contained statements of so positive and surprising a nature that it was thought best to make a thorough investigation before publishing it.

The writer of the letter is Mrs. S. Shoemaker, who now lives at Elkton, Mich., but whose home was for nearly twenty years in the village of Duart, Ontario. A thorough investigation has been made, and it can be positively stated that the circumstances, as she describes them, are true. They are vouched for as facts by J. C. McDonald, Esq., justice of the peace, and C. Elford, postmaster, both highly esteemed citizens of Duart.

Mrs. Shoemaker's letter is published as she wrote it, and deserves attention:

Elkton, Mich., May 5, 1892.

To the Editor of the News:

Much as I dislike the notoriety of seeing my name in print, I feel forced to let the world know of the remarkable things that have happened to me.

For fourteen years my life has been one of misery. My nerves were completely shattered, and at times it seemed as though sleep had gone from me forever. For four years I did not have one good night's sleep. My appetite was variable and food did not digest. My heart was so weak that at the least noise or excitement it almost stopped beating.

Life had no pleasure for me, sad and gloomy forebodings were always present. I was troubled fearfully with female weaknesses, dizziness, nervous headache, poor eyesight, constipation, trembling of the limbs, and so many other grievances that my pen cannot write them.

I tried many kinds of remedies until I had lost faith in all medicine. When I was in the depths of despair I happened to hear of Paine's celery compound. From what I heard I was inspired with fresh courage and hope, and I commenced using it. By the time I had taken a dozen bottles I was once more strong, able to do my own work on a farm. To-day I can eat anything from pork to pastry without its disagreeing with me.

Everyone in this village knows how I suffered and how Paine's celery compound cured me. It changed me from a helpless, despairing woman to my present state of health and strength.

I hope you will publish this letter and spread as widely as possible the knowledge of a means that will bring health and happiness to homes where sickness and suffering make life a burden.

Yours truly,
MRS. S. SHOEMAKER.

Investigations prove that Mrs. Shoemaker's statement is vouched for by many of the best citizens of Huron county. Charles Dornan, a druggist in Elkton, told the News representative that Mrs. Shoemaker's statement was true, and that Paine's celery compound had effected many almost as marvelous cures in that section.

The discovery of Paine's celery compound has certainly marked an era in medical science. It is a pure food for nerves, brain and blood, and gives strength and vigor to those who use it.

BUSINESS MANAGER PRATT

Corners a Bee and Reels Off Something

About a Pair of Kids and Ezra Kendall, the Attractions at the People's This Week—One of Flint's Feats.

Mr. Isaac N. Pratt, business manager for A Pair of Kids, which is to be the attraction at the People's this week, is an old printer and newspaper man, and as such whenever he strikes a town he gravitates into a printing office as naturally as does a sick pig up to the sunny side of a door jamb in January. Through this natural proclivity a Bee was enabled to get some points about A Pair of Kids. The author of the piece, Ezra Kendall, who is but 31 years old, also graduated from a country printing office, and at the age of 17 began a successful engagement of three years as reporter on the New York Herald and other metropolitan papers. This experience was a valuable preparation for his chosen profession which he adopted at the age of 20. Two years later as author of the then famous comedy, We, Us & Co., he sprang into first place as an eccentric comedian. At the end of the second season, he put on his original comedy A pair of Kids, which is now at the close of its seventh and most successful season. In answer to the reporter Mr. Pratt said: "The success of A Pair of Kids in its unusual run of seven years is due to several causes. First, it is original. There is no copying and no attempt at imitation. The principal character is interpreted by him who created it, and who is, other considerations favoring, best fitted for it. The play is full of life, and once started it keeps going until the curtain drops, and the stage hands do not have to fan the actors in order to keep them awake."

Mr. Pratt is sure he has a laughing success for says he:

"Funny! Well, Patti thought so. At a matinee performance at the Grand opera house, Chicago, several years ago, she left her box at the end of the first act, explaining to the manager as she passed out, that her voice would be ruined for her evening's work at the Auditorium, so irresistibly amusing did Mr. Kendall's character appear to her. At Coates' opera house, Kansas City, four years ago, a young man sitting next the aisle in the parquet, jumped from his seat and fell headlong in a laughing fit, and had to be carried off in an ambulance. At Ford's theater, Baltimore, one of the ladies belonging to the nobility had a laughing fit and had to be taken to her carriage by friends, while Mr. J. T. Maston, secretary of the Baltimore Gun club, the members of which headed by President Barbicane, occupied their private box, was observed to raise the remains of his once right arm and strike the steel hook attached to the surviving relic of the late war into the edge of the stage in order to keep from falling over into the bass drum." But the Bee's time was up, to the apparent disappointment of the veracious agent, who evidently had but just commenced to become confidential.

A Good Doctor

MOTHER—NONE BETTER. See what she has in her favor. She's on the spot, she sees the first symptoms; she has sympathy. The little sufferer is bone of her bone and flesh of her flesh. Good points, every one. Add another—the right remedy—and you have as much certainty as can be had in this world that Baby will recover. Dr. Hand has provided the remedy. In Pennsylvania, where he is best known, almost every mother will testify to this. Happy, healthy children is the evidence they offer.

A little Book, illustrated, full of sense and suggestion, will tell you more of Dr. Hand's work and his remedies. Any Mother can have the book sent to her free. Address

The Week at Wheeler's.

Dr. Flint, the hypnotist, will appear at Wheeler's every night this week and Saturday afternoon. His performances are said to be wonderful and at the same time highly laughable. At a recent performance the doctor performed the remarkable feat of breaking a large stone, weighing 487 pounds, on a man's body stretched between two chairs. Previous to the performance of this feat one of the audience asked the doctor if he could compel a subject to lift such a weight, and he tried. The subject was a colored man of not very large build.

"Lift the stone," said the doctor.

The colored man looked at it.

"I ain't no street car horse."

The doctor again pointed to the stone.

The victim tried it and gave it up.

"I want you to lift that stone."

"Git me a block an' tackle an' I will."

Again the doctor pointed to it, and this time the subject swung the huge stone around and lifted it a full foot from the floor.

Then the same colored man was put in a cateleptic condition and stretched between two chairs, his head on one, his feet on the other, and no support between. Five men with difficulty lifted the huge stone and placed it upon his chest. Then a young giant volunteered to wield the sledge hammer, and blow after blow fell on the stone. The body quivered under each powerful stroke but the stone was a tough one and failed to break until the sixth or eighth blow. Then with a crash half of it toppled off the body onto the stage and the audience breathed a sigh of relief.

Florida on Wheels.

Probably the most efficacious advertisements that Florida is receiving comes from an ingenious scheme—"Florida on Wheels"—a railroad car filled with the choicest of Florida's production tastefully and attractively arranged and now being exhibited in different cities in the north. Everywhere that this car and its owner go the people are charmed at the novel and tropical picture there presented. There is no doubt but when thus forcibly presented, with the advantages that this sunniest of sunny states offers, the prospective emigrant hesitates no longer, but decides to leave his bleak and wintry home for a land of flowers and perennial sunshine.—Jacksonville Metropolis.

What is said to be the largest and most expensive water-wheel in the world is to be seen at Laxey, on the Isle of Man, where it is used to pump water in a lead and silver mine. This wheel is 72 1-2 feet in diameter, 6 feet in breadth and develops 150 horse-power, operating a system of pumps which raise 250 gallons a minute. This immense wheel was built about 40 years ago, and has been running continuously ever since. In late years, however, such immense improvements have been made in hydraulic engineering that such a wheel is now considered almost obsolete.

London wheat market opens steady; corn firm. Weather warmer. Liverpool wheat quiet, light demand; corn firm, fair demand.

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth are 163,668 bu and from five other western points 95,774 bu. On the corresponding Monday in 1891 the receipts were 120,063 bu. The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were wheat 149,452 bu and flour to an aggregate of 310,000 bu. Export of corn 409,670 and of oats 18,668 bu.

English markets as reported herein are dull but steady for wheat, and firm for corn.

The visible supply of wheat decreased in the week 1,753,000 bu, corn 1,155,000 bu, oats 92,000 bu. In the corresponding week in 1891 wheat decreased 209,000 bu, corn increased 593,000 bu, and oats 220,000 bu.

The Markets To-day.

Foreign markets do not reflect the changes on this side, but while they are quoted dull and weak the buying and shipping at our seaboard continues very free, as witness the clearances last week. This is emphasized by the fact that from the Pacific coast the movement is very light.

A writer quoted by Bradstreets says: "As to the surprising decline in wheat within a few months, it is declared that cheap freights and cheap silver exchange account for part of it, but the real reason is thought to be that the anticipated difficulties of supplying Europe are much less than supposed. Such belief in difficulties has been abandoned. Fears of weekly receipts up to harvest do not exist."

The above is from a bear authority, if there be any. We think there is another side to the question, presented by very uncertain harvest prospects abroad and in this country, and the almost dead certainty of a harvest averaging all over Europe and this country, at least two weeks late, and with a fair chance of a still later harvest. This means a great increase of consumption from this crop.

Stocks in northwest inetrior elevators reported decreased 352,000 bu.

The weather over the northwest reported raining and snowing.

Under reports of bad weather for seeding wheat in the spring wheat states and cold, backward weather for winter wheat growth, the wheat markets in this country opened higher and srtong, and advanced from Saturday's closing prices 1 1-2c bu. But at about 84c for July wheat the offerings and sales became very large and the markets fell off and lost the advance.

The weather everywhere is unfavorable for corn. Unfavorable for spring plowing and planting a new crop, and unfavorable for moving the old crop out of farmers' hands. Receipts are scarcely more than the daily consumptive demand, and prices have been higher and strong.

Foreign markets show no change worth noting.

In New York May wheat closed 1-2c lower, July 3-8c higher. May corn 1 7-8c and July 2c higher. May and oats 1c higher.

In Chicago May wheat closed 1-2c and July 3-8c higher. May corn 1 3-4c and July 2c up. May oats 1c up.

In Toledo—The trading in wheat has been fairly active, largely in May and July, with less doing in August and June. Opening prices for May were 3-8c to 51 8c higher, July 1c and August 3-4c, but the advance was not maintained and the close shows a loss on May of 1-4c, a gain on July of 1-4c and August of 1-2c. On the call cash wheat and May sold at 91 1-8c; July at 86 3-4c to 86 5-8c, closing at 3-4c. After the call May sold at 91 1-8c to 3-8c and closed at 90 1-2c. July sold at 87 1-4c and closed at 86 1-2c. August sold at 85 3-4c to 86c, and closed at 85 1-2 asked. June at 91c. Cash wheat was in fair request, advanced 1-4c and lost 1-2c; No. 2 soft sold at 91c and closed at 90 1-2c; No. 3 soft at 88 1-2; No. 4 soft at 84 1-2c. No. 1 rejected, 85c. No. 2 at 81c. Corn was 1 1-2c dearer. No. 2 at 46c to 45 1-2c; May at 44c. July at 44 1-4c. No. 3 at 44 1-2c; No. 4 at 43c; No. 2 yellow at 45 1-2c. Oats—No. 2 white at 32c. Rye—No. 2 about 78c.

Puts and Calls at Chicago.

The Chicago Herald says a good deal of irritation is again felt in that market concerning the renewed dealing in puts and calls. The dissatisfaction, of course, is disclosed by those who desire to observe the rules, against those who do not do so. The "Herald" says this kind of dealing runs up into the millions each night. These men are doing their level best to pass the Hatch bill. But where is the backbone of the Chicago officers who were elected to execute the laws of the board?
